The Secretary of the Commonwealth is the principal public information officer for the state government of Massachusetts. This web site offers an exciting additional method for citizens to obtain that information so that this office can better serve as many of our citizens as possible, quickly and conveniently.

I invite you to take advantage of this outstanding resource. Please feel free to offer any suggestions that could make this service more useful to you.

Sincerely,
William Francis Galvin
Secretary of the Commonwealth

Search the Office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth:

Type a word or words below to search the entire website of the Secretary of the Commonwealth:

Search tips:

Use AND to find both words. For example: house and senate will find only pages that have both senate and house.

Use OR to find all instances of either one word or another, for example: abbott or costello. This query finds all pages that mention Abbott or Costello or both.

Use NEAR to find words close to each other. For example, both system and manager and system near manager look for the words system and manager on the same page. If you use NEAR, the returned pages are ranked in order of proximity, so the first items on the list will have the words close together than items lower on the list.

Use AND NOT to exclude certain text from your search. For example, if you want to find all instances of surfing but not surfing the Net, search for surfing and not the Net.

Use  to look for words that start the same. For example, key will find key, keying, keyhole, keyboard, and so on.

Use  to search for all forms of a word. For example, sink* will find sink, sinking, sank, and sun

Put quotation marks around phrases if you want the search engine to take them literally. For instance "Ways and Means" would find the phrase ways and means. Ways and Means (without the quote) would produce a list of pages that have both means and ways, but not necessarily in the same phrase.
